MARYLAND VS. SOUTH CAROLINA

COACHES STATEMENTS FOR THE PRESS

TATUM: "We knew Carolina had an extremely fine team, more so than that they had been given credit for. After all they had only lost one game, and that one to Duke, and the statistics showed in so many respects that Carolina had a stronger team despite the final outcome.

"We are not the least bit disappointed with the outcome, as running against that big Carolina line was enough for one afternoon's work.

"Our defensive play led by Jones, Faloney, Irvine was especially strong when Carolina threatened. Faloney called another outstanding game and engineered many near perfect series of plays.

ENRIGHT: "Maryland has a great team. One of the finest that will be seen anywhere in this country this year. They can do everything with the ball, run, pass, kick, and constantly keep a defense off balance.

"When asked if Gramling had called it and played the type of game which he expected, Enright said: "I think Gramling did a fine job, as good as could be expected against a tough club as Maryland.

"The notices which we read about and the reports which our scouts gave us on Faloney proved to be true in every respect. They warned us that Faloney is a true all-America candidate, a great passer, a fine ball handler, and a truly experienced play caller. Its easy to understand why many expect him to be nominated for all-America honors."
